DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

History, as a discipline, is the systematic study of the human past, encompassing the analysis of events, societies, cultures, and civilizations across time. It is more than a mere collection of dates and events; history seeks to understand the underlying causes, consequences, and interconnections between the past and present. By examining historical sources, such as texts, artifacts, and oral traditions, historians reconstruct and interpret the experiences of people, offering insights into societal evolution, power dynamics, and cultural developments. This curriculum introduces students to the rich tapestry of human history, focusing on critical periods in Indian history from ancient to modern times, while cultivating analytical and research skills essential for historical inquiry. Through this study, students will engage with multiple perspectives, fostering a deeper understanding of continuity and change in human societies.
